About HBTU

Established in 1921, Harcourt Butler Technical University (HBTU), formerly known as Harcourt Butler Technological Institute (HBTI), has been reconstituted to University as per Act No. 11 of 2016 by the government of Uttar Pradesh to be a center of excellence with focus on “Research, Development and Incubation” in all fields. It has been a beacon of knowledge for over a century, playing a pivotal role in shaping the careers of hundreds of engineers, scientists, and technocrats. On academic front, the University is running five schools namely, School of Engineering (SoE); School of Entrepreneurship and Management, School of Chemical Technology (SoCT); School of Basic & Applied Sciences (SoBAS) and School of Humanities and Social Sciences (SoHSS). HBTU stands out for its commitment to research and innovation, promoting a culture where students and faculty collaborate with industries, fostering an environment of practical learning and technological advancement. The university has two vast campuses, the East Campus and West Campus, with state-of-the-art laboratories and other facilities that enable students to excel both, academically and socially. One of the most remarkable aspects of HBTU is its rich alumni network, which includes trailblazers and innovators across various sectors. These accomplished alumni continue to support and inspire current students, further strengthening the university’s legacy.
