Workshop on Organic Waste Management by Deutsche Gesellschaft für Internationale Zusammenarbeit (GIZ) GmbH and NSS HBTU

On 13th January 2023, NSS HBTU in collaboration with “Deutsche Gesellschaft für Internationale Zusammenarbeit (GIZ) GmbH” organized a "One-Day Training Workshop" on "Organic-Waste Management" in the Landmark Hotel. In this workshop, attendees got to know about the various techniques to manage the biodegradable wastes. India generates about “62 million tonnes” of municipal solid waste per day, out of which approximately “50%-60%” of waste is biodegradable waste. This waste quantity is projected to increase upto “165 million tonnes” by 2030 and increase up by “6 million tonnes” every year.

This can cause serious environmental hazardous problems to our country, leading to greenhouse gases production, global warming, several types of pollution, various diseases, soil degradation and many more.

In this workshop, we got to know aerobic and anaerobic composting, practical demonstration of manure making, and intellectual talks by dignitaries. The session was very interactive and informative. The questionnaires, presentations and two-way communications made the session fruitful.

The workshop was inaugurated by Dr. Diptee Parmar Sir (Pro Vice- Chancellor HBTU) along with him, Dr. Alakh Kumar Singh Sir (Ex-Dean of Chemical Technology), Dr. Ashwani kumar Rathore Sir, Abhishek Kumar Lal Sir (Convenor NSS HBTU), Dr. R.S.Y Sir, Dr. Gaurav singh Sir, Dr Jitendra Bhaskar Sir and other faculties have graced the session. Around 50 college students from B.tech(1st yr, 2nd yr, 3rd yr, and final yr), along with M.tech scholars also have joined training.

We also sincerely thank GIZ for organizing such a comprehensive and helpful workshop.
