About HBTU, Kanpur

Its roots date back to 1920 when the government of United Provinces established "Government Research Institute, Cawnpore", which was subsequently renamed as "Government Technological Institute" in 1921. Finally in 1926, it got the name "Harcourt Butler Technological Institute" by which we had been knowing it till August 2016. From September 2016 HBTU Kanpur got the status of HBTU Kanpur i.e. Harcourt Butler Technical University Kanpur, by Government of Uttar Pradesh. It was previously a Government Organization, but w.e.f. 26.03.1965, it was declared as an autonomous body and thereafter became University. The HBTU Kanpur is technical university, financially aided by UP Government. The admission for all B.Tech. courses are being done through JEE MAINS. As per the survey of 'India Today', the overall ranking of HBTU Kanpur, considering various aspects, is 20 among the engineering colleges.

About Paint Technology Department

The Department of Paint Technology is one the oldest departments of HBTU Kanpur. It runs 4 years full time B.Tech. course with an intake of 30 and 2 years M.Tech. along with Ph. D. program. The department is well equipped with Laboratory equipments of general testing and sophisticated instrumental testing along with spray application, resin manufacturing, paint & ink manufacturing etc. The department is government recognized for providing the certificates and test reports to various government and private agencies. The materials (paint, varnish, raw materials) are tested and evaluated. The consultancy and certificates are provided by experience faculty members of the department. The department is accredited by National Board of Accreditation (NBA) of All India Council for Technical Education (AICTE). The average placement of the department in last 10 years is 95%. The department is running Paint and Coating Technologists' Association (PACT) from more than 20 years. The aim of the association is to develop the brotherhood, sharing industrial knowledge amongst the paint technologists.

About Webinar

This Webinar is dedicated to one of the most important subjects for academic institutions. Pedagogy deals with the ways/means/art/science of teaching. With change in time and technological advancements, pedagogy has also observed significant changes in its dimensions. In order to update/refresh the existing teaching faculty and prospective teachers for the benefit of students/learners and colleges/universities and nation as a whole, this national webinar on Pedagogy has been planned.
